SFARI social at SfN 2013

BY GREG BOUSTEAD

29 OCTOBER 2013

Join the SFARI science team and leaders of the autism research community for an informal evening of food, drink, conversation and mingling during the 2013 Society for Neuroscience annual meeting.

Date: Sunday, 10 November 2013

Time: 6:30 – 8:30 p.m.

Location: Hilton San Diego Bayfront, room Indigo 204AB

Starting at 7 p.m., we'll host four rapid-fire oral presentations from the winners of our ‘young investigator new-data challenge’:

- Nicola Grissom (from Teresa Reyes's lab, in collaboration with Ted Abel)
  A mouse model of 16p11 deletion demonstrates significant motivational impairments
- Sarah Haigh (from Marlene Behrmann's lab)
  Variable sensory-evoked responses in autism
- Jessica Mariani (from Flora Vaccarino's lab)
  Transcriptome and cellular phenotype of induced pluripotent stem cells
- Joanna Pucilowska (from Gary Landreth's lab)
  16p11.2 deletion mouse model of autism exhibits altered brain architecture
