

WEBINARS

Session IV: Matthew State on the genetics of autism

BY GREG BOUSTEAD

10 JULY 2015

This is the replay for the session 'Genetics,' part of the Summer Institute for Autism Research, presented by the International Society for Autism Research and SFARI.org.

The six-course online series is intended for early-career investigators interested in autism research. More information about the entire program can be found at sfari.org/summer.

Matthew State and a team of trainees worked together to prepare the presentation and materials. You can download course materials that accompanied this session here.

Ask follow-up questions in the comments section below and connect with peers in our private discussion group for researchers on Facebook.