Session VI: Joseph Buxbaum on animal models

BY GREG BOUSTEAD

23 JULY 2015

This is the replay for the session 'Animal Models,' part of the Summer Institute for Autism Research, presented by the International Society for Autism Research and SFARI.org.

The six-course online series is intended for early-career investigators interested in autism research. More information about the entire program can be found at sfari.org/summer.

Joseph Buxbaum and a team of trainees worked together to prepare the presentation and materials. You can download the course materials that accompanied this session here.
