

WEBINARS

Webinar: Ari Ne'eman on the ethical challenges of clinical outcome measures in autism

BY CHELSEY B. COOMBS

12 NOVEMBER 2021

On 29 November, Ari Ne'eman, a doctoral student in health policy at Harvard University and president and co-founder of the Autistic Self Advocacy Network, spoke about ways to assess clinical progress in autistic people that don't also promote that they 'pass' as non-autistic.